OVERVIEW

Since Harry and Meghan, Duke and Duchess of Sussex, announced their departure from royal life in January 2020, there has been an increase in disinformation and targeted harassment directed at the couple on social media platforms, particularly towards the duchess. In October 2021, Bot Sentinel Inc. launched an investigation into the negative Twitter activity concentrated on Harry and Meghan, Duke and Duchess of Sussex.

We set out to determine:

- If the activity was primarily organic or if automated accounts, accounts pretending to be someone else, or toxic trolls were fueling some or most of the hatred.
- How much of this activity originated from single-purpose anti-Meghan and Harry.
- If these accounts were coordinating their activities.

Our research found that a relatively small number of single-purpose anti-Meghan and Harry accounts created and disseminated most of the hateful content on Twitter. However, the primary accounts had assistance that allowed their content to be repackaged and shared by accounts with a considerable following. We observed the primary accounts coordinating their activities and using various techniques to avoid detection. In short, the majority of the anti-Meghan and Harry activity wasn't organic.

INTRODUCTION

Our research began by analyzing 114,000 tweets using hashtags and keywords related to Harry and Meghan, Duke and Duchess of Sussex. We used internal tools to categorize tweets based on sentiment and repetitiveness. We manually examined tweets for altered photos, deceptively edited videos, and other content our internal tools couldn't automatically or accurately analyze.

Our analysis allowed us to isolate 55 single-purpose accounts we identified as the primary hate accounts and 28 secondary hate accounts that mainly amplified the primary accounts. Combined with the help of their 187,631 followers, these accounts were responsible for approximately 70% of the original and derivative hate content targeting Harry and Meghan, Duke and Duchess of Sussex on Twitter. Using internal and 3rd party analytic tools, we estimate a combined unique potential reach of 17,000,000 users.

We used friend/follower connections, retweets, and mentions to identify accounts that were part of the same hate network. Our research revealed these accounts were brazenly coordinating on the platform, and at least one account was openly recruiting people to join their hate initiative on Twitter.

We determined Twitter had previously suspended 40% of the primary accounts, and these accounts were employing tactics to avoid suspension. Some put "parody" in their profiles, although it wasn't a parody account. Others would use racist coded language about Meghan, Duchess of Sussex, to avoid detection. We also observed several accounts either lock or completely deactivate their profiles to preserve their accounts.

The accounts we were monitoring did not confine their hatred to Twitter. They would often tweet links to private blogs, Instagram accounts, and YouTube channels predominately focused on Harry and Meghan, Duke and Duchess of Sussex.

We used Twitter accounts without friends or followers during our research, and after viewing two hate accounts, Twitter's algorithm began suggesting numerous hate accounts. On multiple occasions, Twitter recommended we follow these hate accounts.

It is our opinion the accounts included in this report are violating Twitter's rules on platform manipulation and spam, abuse/harassment, and publishing private information.

It's about time! This broad won't stop until someone with higher power stops her. This lunatic broad won't acknowledge dimwit's 95 yr old grandmother being in the hospital with health issues. Can you imagine the stress she carries every time this lunatic makes a move like this.

This broad was not famous nor was she known in the U.S. why do you keep repeating that lie. Meghan Markle had found fame as an actress in popular US TV series Suits.????????? The broad found fame in The yacht escort service.

Not well-known in Hollywood (not for the lack of trying)but very well known in the yachting circuit.

She was the chosen one to ruin the BRF and help REMAIN--she failed. She's now using body doubles and pretending to tote around a 4 foot rubber baby badly in a front pack. She posted a Harry Santa xmas video i=on her IG only problem is Harry has blue eyes and Santa had brown...heck in some photos you can see the silicone moonbump busted and the shit was running down her legs...and the bump was hanging between her legs...it's literally hysterical. The media has an embargo on the baby because there is a surrogate baby being kept safe away from the whore.

Yep, I have seen this. She said that she didn't fit in the black community because of her lighter skin & yet here she is lying through her teeth about supporting the black community and playing victim of racial discrimination. She is nothing but an opportunist.

Once upon a time there were two brothers. The older brother chose a wife for her beauty, kindness, intelligence, respect for his family. The other foolish brother chose a wife because he loved that despite a luxuriously appointed ensuite while glamping, she voided in the 'woods'.

wanted to be a spy and you all wanted to be spies (you know you did) I thought... why not create and organized "intelligence" agency of our own? I love WWII stuff, so this is the direction we are going... This is us!!!

We need to get with our respective teams, pick leaders, and then figure out where some communications overlap is between them and find those critical conduits for smooth information sharing.
